

Established in 1999, Allshelter are Australian manufacturers of relocatable and permanent fabric and hard top structures, that provide high quality weather protection to Australia and across the world.

Being classed as a temporary or semi-permanent, container dome shelters benefit changing industrial sites, allowing for flexibility in changing operational needs or site requirements. This can be especially beneficial for temporary or seasonal operations.

In an industrial environment bulky storage facilities are needed for plant equipment, machinery, bulky stock and materials, and the flexible widths, heights and access options of Allshelter shelters make them an ideal fit.
