

Mining

Protect your assets. Build your business.

Established in 1999, Allshelter are Australian manufacturers of relocatable and permanent fabric and hard top structures, that provide high quality weather protection to Australia and across the world.

Allshelter provides shelters on mine sites all across Australia as well as globally. Easily relocatable, flexible and heavy-duty, our range of fabric shelters can be used for nearly any purpose in the mining industry. Design, engineering, manufacturing and installation, we have you covered.

Engineered to be permanent and designed to be temporary, fabric shelters have the ability to be relocated, proving to be beneficial. As mine sites expand and move into new locations, your shelter has the ability to move with you.
